

Department of ENGLISH(SF)

B. A. English Literature– 3 years

Unique Features of the Programme

The programme stands out for its commitment to a diverse exploration of literature, spanning various genres, periods, and cultures with a focus on classic, contemporary and global literary perspectives to enrich the literary experience.

Choice-Based Credit System

The curriculum is designed to cover all facets of English Literature, such as the basics of Literary Forms, Literary Criticism, Translation Studies, World Literatures and Teaching Methodology which enables students to be empowered for Higher Education and Placement.

Expertise of the Faculty

Our faculty are equipped with extensive academic and research expertise, creating a learning environment that goes beyond traditional classrooms. Their mentorship provides guidance and an intellectually stimulating academic environment.

Infrastructure

The department has a well-stocked Library featuring 4,876 books, complemented by an additional 10,863 books and 5 journals in the General Library. Furthermore, we provide a Language Lab equipped with updated software (LADY HAWK) designed for Language Proficiency and Literature Courses. Our facilities also include technologically advanced smart classrooms to intensify the learning experience.

Student Life

To enhance the academic experience and foster a vibrant campus life, students engage in various activities such as participating in the Literary & Debating Association SF, Street Plays, Mime Shows, Literary Fests, Eco Visits, and Community Outreach Programmes. Additionally, students have opportunities to participate in Sports, NCC, and NSS. The department also values and encourages students' active contributions in designing and compiling the college magazine and department blog.

Alumni Testimonial:

Student Testimonial

Ms. Abinaya Moses

“Being a woman brought up in Indian society, I felt law as a professional career is not easy. You require a lot of courage and an open mindset. But for me to choose law as my professional career, was not difficult, it was all because of the training to be a bold, courageous, brave and outspoken person given by Krishnammal from day one of my college. I extend my heartfelt thanks to the institution for shaping me into the person I am today. My victory is deeply rooted in the soils of Krishnammal.”

Ms. Janani

“Even though I was an English student, all the faculty of my department encouraged me in all my endeavours where my main focus was Bharathanatyam. The teachers were kind and courteous, understood the potential of each student and encouraged us to do the same. The whole department saw the dancer in me and made it my identity. Being a student at Krishnammal to becoming an alumnus these three years has turned me into a beautiful human being, a confident individual and made me passionate.”

Ms. Nidanyaa T

One of the most recent and exciting addition to the department in my opinion is Pen Pals, the departmental blog where one can showcase their writing talents and express their literary thoughts. It is very promising and allows room for discovery and exploration. I will never forget the days when I discussed contemporary novels and series with my fellow bibliophiles. The campus has given me so many memories and friendships to cherish and reminisce in the years to come for which I'll always be grateful.
